PRESIDENTIAL DIRECTIVE ON DEPARTURE OF PERSONS FROM THE UNITED STATES

In order better to assure the nation's internal security I hereby direct that the Departments and Agencies listed in the last paragraph hereof, based on specific information available to them:

1. Furnish to the Department of State the names, birthplaces, and birthdates of all U. S. citizens whose departure from this country is believed to be inimical to the best interests of the United States because of their possession of information the unauthorized disclosure of which would seriously endanger the security of the nation.

2. Furnish to the Commissioner, Immigration and Naturalization Service of the Department of Justice, the names, birthplaces and birthdates of all aliens whose departure from this country is believed to be inimical to the best interests of the United States because of their possession of information the unauthorized disclosure of which would seriously endanger the security of the nation.

This information should be furnished, as stated, whether or not there is any indication that departure is imminent.

This directive is applicable to the Departments of State, Defense, Justice, Interior, Agriculture, Commerce, the National Security Resources Board, the Central Intelligence Agency, the Atomic Energy Commission, and the Public Health Service.
